THE PRODUCT RANGE

Seismic Design Offering

When utilising FDG's seismic product offering, FDG partner with our clients to assist with their seismic design requirements on their projects. We ensure the unique requirements of the project are understood to ensure cost, design and buildability all align. With our product knowledge we advise the client of product specifications that are then incorporated into the completed design. The design is then reviewed and finalised by a Registered Engineer in accordance with the NZ Standard 4219:2009.

To minimise the risk of budget over-runs FDG also provides a complete Bill of Materials for the project, and product can then be supplied as a project lot or as needed throughout the project. The final PS4 is issued by the assigned Engineer after inspecting the final installation either onsite or by a remote visit.
